

MY NAME IS ARIANE JANE R. NOLASCO

Please help me live.

I was born on February 27, 2006 with biliary atresia, a rare liver disease which means my liver does not have bile ducts. As a result, the bile builds up within, and is destroying my liver. I need a liver transplant in order for me to live.

There is no pediatric liver transplant in the Philippines. This can be done either at the Chang Gung Memorial Hospital in Kaohsiung, Taiwan, or at the Glenn Eagles Hospital in Singapore, or at the Queen Mary Hospital in Hong Kong at a cost ranging from P4 million to P7 million.

My parents, Josefina and Artemio C. Nolasco, can't afford such huge amounts, that's why I appeal to your charity and compassion.

Please help me raise money for my liver transplant.
Any amount you can contribute will help to ensure my survival.

You can also send your donation to our home address:
